2015 FUNDRAISING EVENT

Watkins Wildlife Rehab

Watkins Wildlife Rehab is a nonprofit, charitable organization serving the needs of the animals of Southeast Missouri.

This year with the help of many volunteers, we were able to succeed in building a shelter to rehab beavers. This is a new adventure because baby beavers stay with their parents for two years before going on their own. We will have beavers not for one season but for two years.

2015 Budget

Although we were successful in getting a beaver shelter built this year we ended the season with only $1,000 in the bank.

It takes about $10,000 to care for the animals each year. In addition to caring for the animals we spend money replacing cages and equipment. We have done without a building for storage and have instead used the Watkins house and barn to store food, supplies and baby animals. It is our goal to purchase a 20' by 20' building for this purpose. To purchase a building, pour a cement foundation and install electricity and water it will cost $15,000. Our goal for this year's budget is to raise $25,000.

Watkins Wildlife Rehab receives no state or federal funding and no one working with Watkins Wildlife receives any financial benefit. The animals are cared for by John and Carolyn Watkins, the founders of the organization and volunteers. We have been lucky to have the support of individuals like you to continue our mission. All donations are tax deductible. Can you help us make a difference?

We sincerely thank you for your support!
